CARE & MAINTENANCE

Belfast sinks live hard lives, that is the point of them, and fireclay obliges. Rinse after heavy use, cream-clean weekly, and flush the weir overflow monthly by filling the bowl past the slot and letting it drain; this keeps the channel fresh. Limescale in hard-water areas lifts with a 1:3 vinegar solution left for ten minutes, then rinsed.

Fireclay is a kiln-fired ceramic; dimensional variance of ±2% is normal under the B45 standard. Always template from the delivered sink.
